

the Broken G Strings

Bev Wesley and Georgene Goodwin

These two retired teachers first met singing barbershop harmony with Sweet Adelines. They also both taught at Watsonville High School, and soon started performing together, and with other musicians there, producing several faculty talent shows and entertaining at staff meetings. Their love of music and harmony has led them to participate in many musical productions throughout the county as well as fund raisers, social clubs and retirement parties.

Several years ago they discovered they both played a little banjo, and thought of adding them to the mix. However, the banjos were really heavy. As luck would have it, they recently attended a meeting of the Santa Cruz Ukulele Club and found the perfect instruments, trading in their banjos for ukuleles and banjo ukes. It was love at first "strum", and has been their passion ever since!
